Reserve free first

Registration is free and non-binding. Norskbro can send a payment invitation only after at least six active, unique reservations. You then review the offer, total and terms before expressly ordering or paying. The reserved price is valid until the later payment deadline. An invoice order is separate from the actual invoice being issued.

Participant name (optional; completing this field does not reserve a place)

Start, cancellation and privacy

The start is confirmed separately in writing after at least six actual payments. Unpaid reservations and invoices do not count. If Norskbro cancels before the start, the full course fee is refunded; moving to another group is voluntary. Consumers normally have 14 days to withdraw from the later teaching contract. Free cancellation before the first class is also retained. Respect fellow students and do not share their private information or recordings without appropriate permission.
